EXPLANATION.

THE Articles in this CATALOGUE are arranged under the Heads of BILLS,
REPORTS of COMMITTEES,
ACCOUNTS AND PAPERS.

The first head consists of such Public BILLS as have been brought into the House, and printed, with the various amendments they have undergone during their discussion.

The head REPORTS contains only such Reports as have been made by Committees of the House.—Minutes of Evidence taken before Committees of the House, are arranged under the head of ACCOUNTS and PAPERS.

Under the head of ACCOUNTS and PAPERS, all Financial, Commercial, and other Accounts and Estimates, will be found; and likewise whatever Papers have been printed by Order of the House, and are not arranged under the first two heads.—This head comprizes all such Papers as are not Proceedings of the House; as Narratives of particular Transactions, Treaties, Diplomatic Correspondence, Papers respecting East India Affairs, Reports of the East India Company and Parliamentary Commissioners, &c.

It may be proper to say a few words in explanation of the mode which has been pursued in the Arrangement of the articles under the three foregoing heads. They are, 1. Classed under the year in which they were printed; which is marked in the first column. 2. The Papers of each year are arranged Alphabetically, according to the tenor of the subject; and an Abstract of the Title is given in the centre column. 3. In the right-hand outer column, the volume is marked where each article may be found in the Collection preserved in the custody of the Clerk of the Journals, whereof another set is also preserved in the Speaker's Gallery. 4. Each article is numbered; and these numbers serve for references to the bundles on the shelves, and likewise to the table of contents in each volume of that Collection: these are marked in the second column.—This Arrangement will be elucidated by the following examples: Let it be supposed that the Paper in request is “An Account of the Disposition of Grants for 1796.” Reference must be had to the head of ACCOUNTS and PAPERS, and then to the year 1796-7 under that head; where the article "Disposition of Grants" will be found. Prefixed to it is No. 865, and in the right-hand column is Vol. XLIII: the No. indicates that the article is to be found in the bundle which bears that No. and likewise in Vol. XLIII. p. 865. If it be required to find the "Proceedings of the House respecting the High Price of Corn in 1795;"—this will likewise be found under the head "ACCOUNTS and PAPERS—1795-6—No. 831—CORN—Vol. XLII." If the Report of the Commissioners of Public Accounts, made in 1780, is wanted, it will be found under the head "REPORTS—1780—No. 41—PUBLIC ACCOUNTS—Vol. V;" but the "Reports respecting the Land Revenue," not being from a Committee of the House, will be found under the head ACCOUNTS and PAPERS, and not under that of REPORTS. These examples equally apply to the articles under the head BILLS.

But if any difficulty occurs in ascertaining the date or No. of any article that may be wanted, the INDEX which is subjoined will at once remove it. In this Index the same mode of arrangement is observed as in the CATALOGUE, with respect to the three heads of Bills, Reports, and Accounts and Papers: the Roman Numerals referring to the volume of the respective Collections preserved by the Clerk of the Journals, and in the Speaker's Gallery; and the other Figures referring to the Number in the Catalogue.
